THE RETURN

DEPUTY Sheriff Joe Hearsom heard the shots two minutes after he'd entered Cameron's restaurant for his breakfast and ordered ham and eggs. The waitress was approaching his table with coffee when the shots rang out.

An instant later, the cup of coffee was just a big, brown splash on the floor as the girl screamed and dropped it. Shots hadn't been heard like that in Barnsville since Ruck Staley's old gang had been rounded up and shipped off to State's prison ten years before. Hearsom jumped to his feet, buckled on the gunbelt he'd relinquished to eat his meal more comfortably and dashed out of the restaurant. The streets were rapidly emptying of people. Glancing toward the Sheriff's office, Joe saw his father poke his head out of the office and then draw it in again. A moment later he was running up the steps. Inside, he saw Sheriff Cam Hearsom sitting down wearily behind his desk.

"F'gosh sakes, pop!" Joe exclaimed. "You heard those shots, didn't you?"

"I heard 'em," the Sheriff said. "But there's no law against anybody firin' in the air, unless they do it too often."

"But what's anybody firing for?" Joe asked.

For answer, his father tossed a sheet of folded letter-paper across the desk.

"Ruck Staley's comin' back. He's served his ten years in State's prison and he was released yesterday. His old gang must have heard about it. They're just celebratin'."

Joe read the official communication from the warden of the State prison. Ruck Staley, having paid his debt to society, to the people of the state of Arizona, had been released and was coming back to live on the small spread he'd inherited from his father. Joe sat down slowly, thinking. He remembered as a boy his father's capturing the Staley gang. All of them except Ruck had gotten five years, and Ruck had got ten. All of them had served their time and come back to familiar scenes to take up their lives again at useful work. And now Ruck was coming back, too.

"He threatened to kill you when he got back, pop, didn't he?" Joe asked.

His father nodded.

"That's what he said," the Sheriff said slowly. " 'Course, he may have learned his lesson. And again, he may not. What I'm worried about is the effect Ruck's return may have on his old gang. They're already gettin' restless. If Ruck takes it into his head to start things up again . . ."

Joe looked at his father.

"You're worried about something else, too, aren't you, pop?"

The Sheriff said nothing for a moment, then nodded.

"I am, son. You read that letter. The prison warden said Ruck was coming back by train. I wired about that point. Ruck got on the train for Barnsville at 9:00 yesterday. He should have been here by 6:00 last night. He wasn't on the train he took from the State prison. That means he got off it somewhere, and he's approaching Barnsville on the quiet. Maybe to take a shot at me."

"You got a plan?" Joe asked.

"You ride out toward Pine Bluff," Cam Hearsom said, "And keep that old cave Ruck's gang used to meet in under observation." He paused and a hard look came into his eyes. "Ruck may be headin' there to hide out for a while."

"And you'll stay in Barnsville?"

The Sheriff nodded.

"How do you know Ruck's not usin' this whole setup as a decoy, figurin' he'd split us up, leavin' you alone to face him if he came directly into town."

"I've thought of that," Cam Hearsom said. "But it'll take me a while to round up a posse, just in case. I'll have to face it alone. After all, son, that's what you'll be doin', providin' Ruck goes out to the old cave."

Joe rose and shook hands with his father. He walked out of the office and back to the restaurant, where he finished his meal and then went to the corral back of the Sheriff's office and saddled his mount. The streets were full

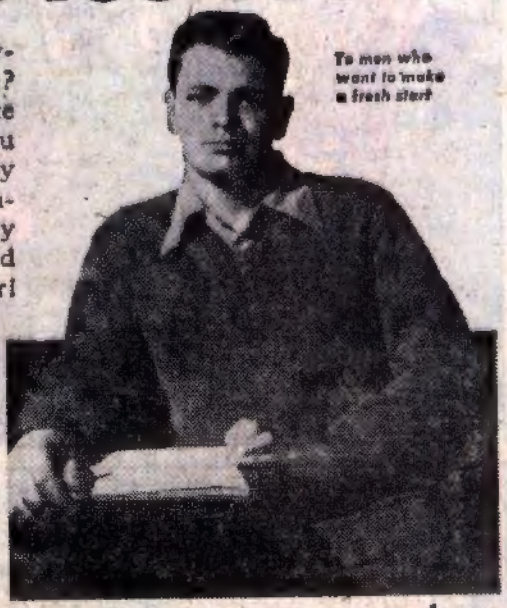
Did you give up too soon?

Did you quit school too soon? Are you stuck with a low-pay job just because you don't have a technical education? Millions of unskilled men are in the same boat. But, unlike the others, you can do something about your future. You can train at home in spare time for a better job, higher pay and lifelong security. Opportunities are best in the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration field. So rapidly is the industry expanding that 20,000 service technicians must be trained each year. Let CTI qualify you for a rewarding career!



To men who want to make a fresh start

Opportunities are great for success in

Air Conditioning and Refrigeration—

Train at home in spare time

As part of your training, you receive all parts to build a ¼ h.p. heavy-duty, commercial-type condensing unit. You also get a set of professional quality mechanic's tools and gauges. You experiment with this equipment, get practical experience as you train, before you graduate. After unit is assembled, you may build an air conditioner, freezer, refrigerator or milk cooler. Only CTI sends operating kits. No extra charge!

Air Conditioning is now America's finest opportunity field. The government reports that during the past 12 years, production increased 400 per cent. No other industry did better! Over 8,200,000 domestic and industrial units are produced annually. Already 150,000,000 are in use. Despite this fabulous growth, Air Conditioning is said to be in its infancy! There are more opportunities for advancement—and less competition for good jobs—than perhaps in any other field. You are needed.

Get experience as you train

A famous "mechanics" magazine made a survey of home study school graduates. The editors found that 90% got pay raises, 42% earned promotions, and 17% started businesses of their own. CTI home study offers other advantages. You keep your present job as you train. You live with your family. You set your own pace, select study hours most convenient for you. You also get truly personalized instruction. Best of all, CTI sends practical training kits—to help you get experience as you learn!

Earn money as you learn

The typical CTI student is eager to put his skill to profitable work one part-time basis. Though most students prefer to tie up with local dealers and repair establishments, a surprising number are independents. The extra cash helps meet training cost. Often there's enough to bank, or invest in more equipment.

Start a business—Be the boss

Armed with knowledge, seasoned with skill acquired through practice on kits, and equipped with tools and gauges, many graduates start out on their own. Some expand into retail stores. Others contract to service taverns, restaurants, food stores and commercial buildings. The more ambitious become air conditioning contractors.

Get the facts—Then decide

Do you have a mechanical inclination to learn Air Conditioning and Refrigeration repair? What are your opportunities for success? How does CTI train men to become qualified technicians and mechanics? What do students think of training? Get detailed, accurate answers to these and many other questions by filling out and mailing coupon below. No obligation. Facts are free. Act today!

These students are making good—Why not you?

again of people, as he cantered down the main street out toward Pine Bluff. Tension was on many faces and Joe knew that the town was probably in for a bad time if Ruck decided to kick over the traces.

At the corner of the intersection of Main Street and Catalpa, he turned east, and hightailed it for the bluff, seven miles out of town. Half an hour later, he reached the steep rise and began climbing his mount. At the top he dismounted and went down to the old cave the Staley gang had used. He found it empty. Suddenly he whirled as he heard distant shots. Pounding out of the cave he ran back to the top of the bluff. His startled eyes took in a strange scene. At a mile distance, two great clouds of dust were moving rapidly down the road from Barnsville. He was about to jump into his saddle, when his blood froze as a voice behind him spoke. It was a booming voice and it said: "You must be Cam Hearsom's youngster!"

Joe spun on his heel. Behind him stood a huge, beefy man dressed in a cheap suit. Joe nodded. "That's me," he said.

"You kinda look like your dad," the big man said and smiled grimly. "I'm Ruck Staley!"

Instantly, Joe Hearsom's hands went for his guns, but, to his surprise, Ruck Staley only grunted.

"Haven't got time to explain yet," Staley said. "But I know what must have happened in Barnsville. My friends probably got too excited about my gettin' out and started a rumpus. Your Dad and a posse must be chasin' 'em. There's only one way we can stop 'em. They're headed here because it's the nearest approach to the county line. Once over it, they're out of your dad's jurisdiction!"

"How you figure to stop 'em?" Joe asked.

For answer, Staley reached out, snaked the lasso from Joe's saddlebow and whipped it out its full length. One end he tied to a big boulder standing on the very edge of the steep bluff. The other end he secured to another boulder about thirty feet away. Then he peered down the bluff. "Here they come!" he yelled and started to run. "You push this boulder. I'll take care of the other!"

Joe went to his boulder and waited for Staley's signal. When it came, he flexed his muscles, gave it one mighty heave and jumped back as it toppled over the steep drop, together with Staley's thirty feet away.

Down the drop the heavy rocks rolled, keeping the rope jumping and flailing between them. The five fleeing mounted men Staley had spotted were already a third of the way up the bluff, when they saw the trap coming straight at them. They tried to stop, but it was too late. The lasso swept them off their horses flat on their backs on the ground. Then Joe and Ruck Staley swarmed down the drop. At the same instant, the pursuing posse broke cover and galloped up to the base of the bluff. Within minutes, all five of the fleeing men were secured.

Cam Hearsom stepped up to Ruck Staley. "Joe tells me you helped stop 'em before they crossed the county line," he said. "But I can't figure why, since you left the train and came huntin' for me."

Ruck Staley grinned. "I didn't come huntin' for you, Sheriff," he said. "I left the train yesterday to come here cross-country, figurin' the boys would want to meet me in private, thinkin' I had some plans for 'em. But I didn't have any plans. I wanted to go straight, and I knew I could talk them back onto the straight and narrow if I had a chance to see them outside of town." He paused and glanced at his old gang standing shamefaced under guard. "I see they got out of hand in town, just like I thought."

"That's right," the Sheriff said, smiling. "We chased after 'em for disturbin' the peace." He held out his hand to Ruck, who shook it. "Glad to have you back. But what'll we do with your old gang?"

Staley's eyes twinkled. "Slap 'em in the cooler for a night, then turn 'em over to me. I'm startin' an outfit on the spread I inherited, and I can use these galoots to do some honest work on the ranch. I'm sure they've learned their lesson now.

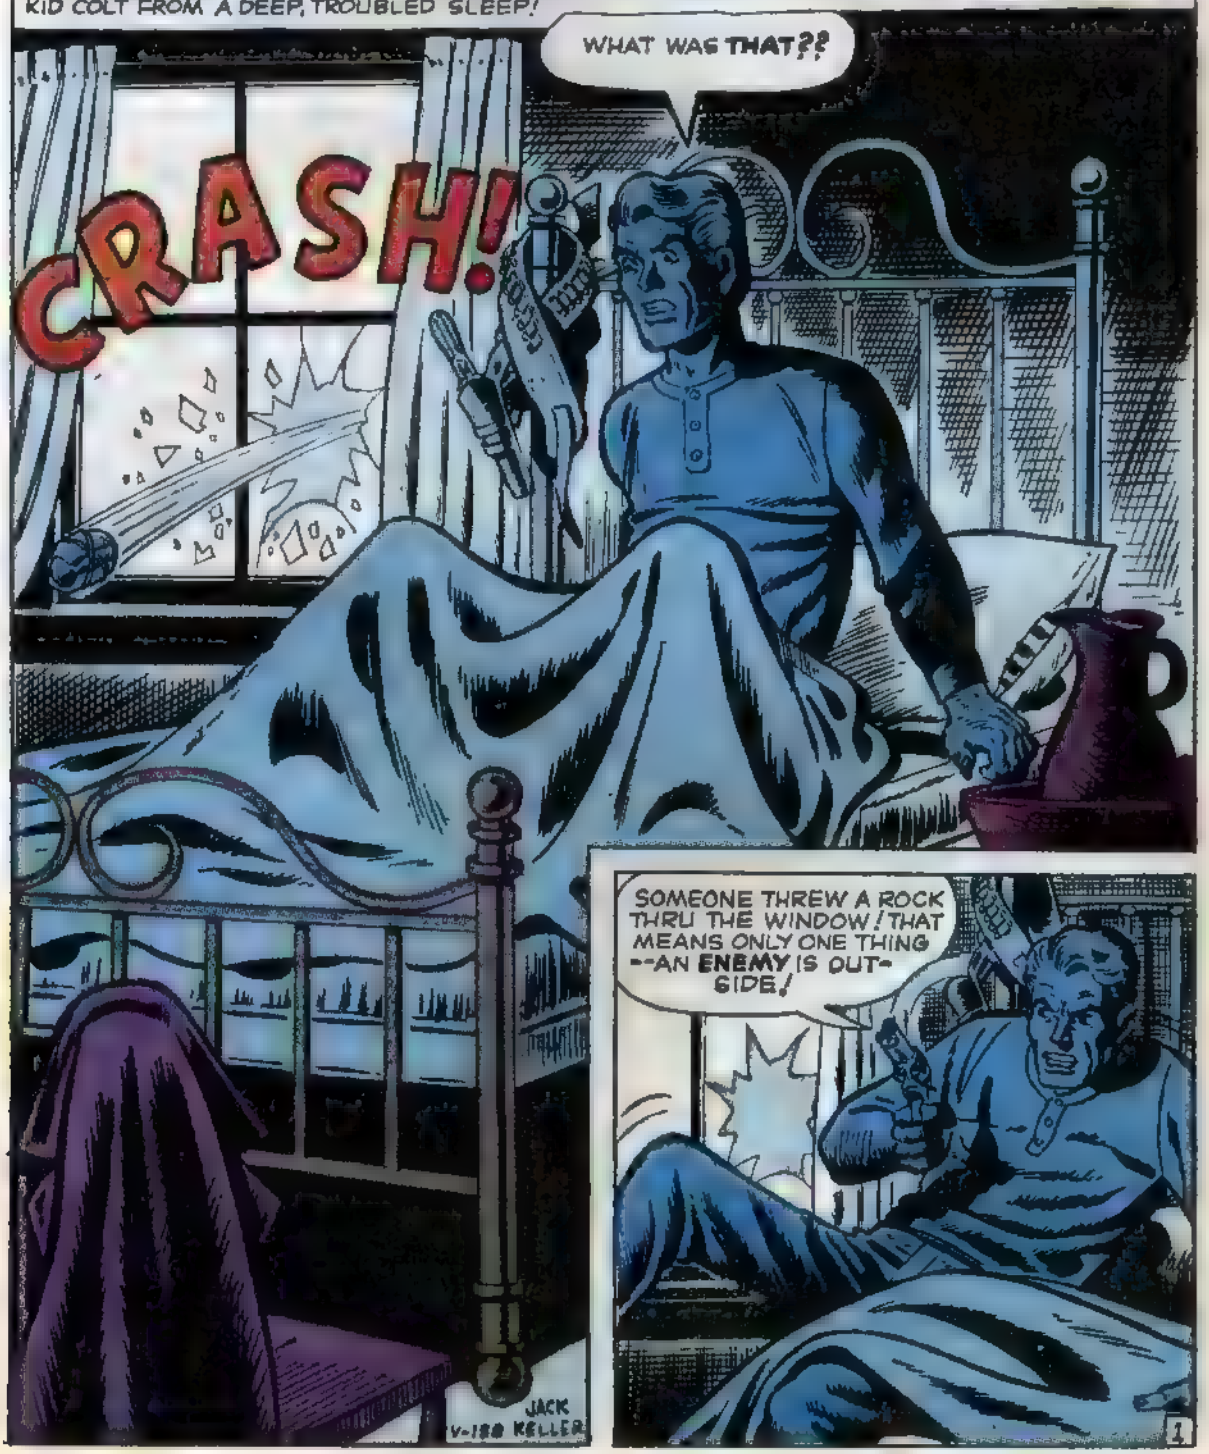
"SHOWDOWN AT DAWN!"

Stan Lee

SOMETIMES A TERRIFYING ADVENTURE CAN BEGIN UNEXPECTEDLY, WITH THE SHOCK OF A LIGHTNING BOLT! SO IT WAS THIS NIGHT WHEN THE SOUND OF A SHATTERED WINDOW WOKE KID COLT FROM A DEEP, TROUBLED SLEEP!



CROUCHING LOW, SO AS NOT TO MAKE A TARGET OF HIMSELF TO WHOEVER WAS LURKING OUTSIDE THE WINDOW, THE KID READ THE CLUMSILY SCRAWLED NOTE!
"WE KNOW YOU'RE THERE, KID! WE'RE WAITING OUTSIDE FOR YOU!-- THE CRANE BROTHERS!"
THE CRANE BROTHERS! THEY'VE BEEN TRAILING ME FOR MONTHS! EVER SINCE I WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR BREAKING UP THEIR GANG DOWN ABILINE WAY! THE THREE OF THEM MUST HAVE PICKED UP MY TRAIL THIS MORNING!
I CAN JUST MAKE OUT THREE FIGURES IN THE SHADOWS DOWN BELOW! THIS IS THE WAY THEY LIKE IT-- THREE AGAINST ONE!
AND THERE'S NO WAY I CAN AVOID A SHOW-DOWN! THIS HOTEL SITS ON THE EDGE OF A CLIFF...
...THERE'S NO WAY OUT BACK-- EXCEPT OVER THE CLIFF! I HAVE TO GO OUT THE FRONT DOOR-- SOONER OR LATER! OUT TO FACE THREE GUNS, WAITING TO SHOOT ME DOWN!
HOTEL

MEANWHILE, OUTSIDE...
HE MUSTA READ OUR NOTE BY NOW! HE'LL BE COMIN' OUT 'MOST ANY MINUTE! SO SPREAD OUT! WE DON'T WANNA TAKE ANY CHANCES!
YOU GO THAT WAY, CLAY! I'LL DUCK OVER THERE!
YOU COVER THE DOOR, CHANCE! WHEN HE COMES OUT--LET HIM HAVE IT!
DON'T WORRY, CRAG! I DON'T AIM TO MISS!
HOTEL
THEY'LL BE EXPECTING ME TO CHARGE OUT OF THE FRONT DOOR! SO I MIGHT AS WELL GIVE 'EM A SURPRISE!
CRASH!
LOOK! HE JUMPED THE WINDOW! GIT 'IM, CHANCE!
GET 'IM?? I DIDN'T EVEN SEE 'IM!
WHERE'D HE GO??
SHOOT, YUH FOOLS! HE'S COMIN' RIGHT AT US!
IT'S NOW OR NEVER!
BLAM

I'LL GIT 'IM! I GOT 'IM IN MUH SIGHTS!
NOW I'LL-- UGH!
YOU'VE GOTTA MOVE FASTER THAN THAT TO GET KID COLT, HOMBRE!
I'M SAFE HERE FOR A MINUTE--BUT THERE ARE STILL TWO GUNS AGIN' ME--AND I DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY'RE HIDIN'!!
I COULD TRY TO SNEAK OUT OF TOWN BEFORE THE SUN COMES UP--BUT IT WOULD BE NO USE! THEY'D KEEP AFTER ME UNTIL ANOTHER SHOWDOWN! I MIGHT AS WELL SETTLE IT NOW!
THAT SHADOW--FROM BEHIND...
MISSED!
YEAH, HOMBRE--YUH MISSED! BUT YUH WON'T GIT A SECOND CHANCE!
BLAM!
PUH-WHEEE!
LOOK OUT, CHANCE! I'LL GIT 'IM!

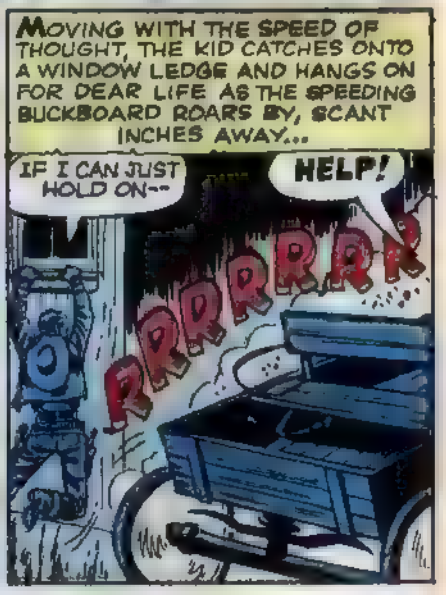
MUH LEG! WHA--???



MOVING WITH THE SPEED OF THOUGHT, THE KID CATCHES ONTO A WINDOW LEDGE AND HANGS ON FOR DEAR LIFE AS THE SPEEDING BUCKBOARD ROARS BY, SCANT INCHES AWAY...

Albert Dorne – probably the greatest money-maker in the history of commercial art. At the height of his career, he began a full-time search for people who like to draw.

He's Looking for People Who Like to Draw

TODAY HUNDREDS of men and women who never thought they could be artists are working happily at easels and drawing boards, making pictures, and getting well paid for it. They all can thank Albert Dorne, a famous artist who devotes almost his full time to helping other people become artists.

Some of the people Dorne has helped

Don Smith of New Orleans is an example. A few years ago, he knew nothing about art, even doubted he had talent. Now he is an illustrator with a large advertising agency.

John Busketta is another. He was a pipefitter's helper in a big gas company. Today he still works for the same company, but as an artist in the advertising department, with a big increase in pay.

Harriet Kuzniewski was bored with an "ordinary" job before she heard of Albert Dorne. Today she does high-style fashion illustration in New York.

With the right training, Wanda Pickulski gave up her typing job to become fashion artist for a local department store.

John Whitaker of Memphis was an airline clerk two years ago. Recently he won a national cartooning contest and was signed to do a newspaper comic strip.

Long before Albert Dorne started looking for people who like to draw, they came to him for advice and help. Since he alone could only help a few of these people he called together America's most successful artists – men like Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos and Al Parker.

A Plan To Help Others

He said: "All over America, there are people who like to draw, who could be turned into good artists. Why can't we give these people the training they need—including all the trade secrets and know-how we've learned over the years? I'm suggesting a new kind of school—a home-study art school that would give talented people the best professional art training, no matter where they live."

The famous artists agreed. Taking time from their busy careers, they spent several years creating a remarkable series of art lessons covering every aspect of drawing and painting. They illustrated their lessons with over 5,000 "here's-how" illustrations. The lessons start from scratch and cover every skill a top artist needs. Finally, the famous artists developed a wonderful way to give each student personal correction and advice all through his training.

Albert Dorne is not surprised by the success of his students. "The art field is growing. We keep getting calls from all over the country, asking us for practical well-trained students who can step into full-time or part-time art jobs."

Famous Artists Talent Test

To find others with art talent worth developing, the famous artists created a 12-page talent test. Thousands paid $1 for this test, but now the School offers it free and will grade it free. If you show talent on the test, you will be eligible for training by the School. No obligation. Simply mail coupon. It might be your first step to an exciting, well-paid career in art.
